

Engendering change heritage project

Role: Professional photographer

Job: Engender is seeking a professional photographer to undertake a series of photographs of women involved in the women's movement in Scotland over the past 25 years. The successful applicant will ensure that women are comfortable during the process, including liaising with Engender staff and other professionals where applicable. The photographs will accompany a documentary podcast featuring interviews with the subjects.

Background: Engender is Scotland's feminist policy organisation. 2018 marks Engender's 25th anniversary and we have received funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund to produce a documentary podcast and photo series charting our history, and the history of the women's movement in Scotland over the past quarter of a century.

Person Specification:

- Experience of working as part of a wider project.
- Familiarity with women's equality issues and understanding of the importance of women only spaces.
- Experience of photo portraiture.
- The successful applicant must provide their own equipment.
- We particularly welcome applications from BME, LGBTI, and disabled candidates.

Brief:

- Produce c. 10 photo portraits of individuals or groups who have campaigned for women's equality in Scotland. The subjects should be photographed in surroundings or with objects relevant to their role in the women's equality movement, to be discussed with the subjects and Engender staff.
- Liaise with the subjects to organise dates, times and locations.
- Attend c.2 planning meetings with Engender staff to discuss the wider project.
- Advise Engender staff on printing and display options for the photographs.
- Provide digital copies of the photographs in a range of formats.

Fee: £2,500, with payment structure discussed with the successful applicant

How to apply:

Email maxine.blane@engender.org.uk with links to examples of your work, and telling us why you would like to take part in this project (max 500 words)

Interviews will take place via Skype.

Please contact alys.mumford@engender.org.uk or 0131 558 9695 if you have any questions about the project.

Deadline: 9am on Wednesday 18th July.
